FLAG CEREMONY

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and the Hancock County Welcome Center will co-host a flag ceremony Wednesday, Oct. 12, at 2 p.m. at the Hancock County Welcome Center on Hwy. 607 and F-10.

This event commemorates seven months to go before the May 12 opening of the 1984 Louisiana World Exposition in New Orleans.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett, Waveland Mayor John Longo and President of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors A.A. "Dolph" Kellar have been invited to perform the official raising of the World's Fair Flag.

Following the ceremonies, cake and refreshments will be served by the Welcome Center staff. The public is invited to this event.

School attendance officer appointed

Youth Court Referee Michael D. Haas has hired a school attendance officer, Frank P. McNeil IV of Bay St. Louis.

A graduate of Loyola University, he is retired from the New Orleans Police Department and has extensive experience dealing with juveniles, having served six years as a juvenile detective with that department.

"I am pleased to find a person with McNeil's qualifications and experience to fill this important position. He is a welcome addition to the Youth Court staff," Haas said.

McNeil's duties will include:

1. Monitor compulsory school attendance;
2. Investigate non-attendance;
3. Cooperate with any public agency to locate and identify all compulsory school-age children in non-attendance;
4. Cooperate with all other courts of competent jurisdiction; and 5. Provide counseling to encourage attendance.

FRANK MCNEIL IV

Also, 6. Attempt to secure social services to enable a child to attend; 7. Visit home and/or other place to locate child in non-attendance; 8. Return truant child to parents or to school officials; 9. Home visit child not enrolled; 10. Give written notice to parent re: non-compliance; 11. Other duties as established by Youth/Family Court; and 12. If all else fails, file a petition charging parents with neglect.

As this is a new position, McNeil has been spending his time getting acquainted with school officials.

He was born in Bay St. Louis, son of Frank P. McNeil III, a retired police officer. He is a graduate of Loyola University, New Orleans, and has served six years as a juvenile detective with the New Orleans Police Department.

WHAT'S WITH FIRETOWER ROAD—Appealing to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors at its Monday meeting at the Courthouse in Bay St. Louis to find out why the Firetower Road state aid project has not yet been completed is Herbert deBuys, a Firetower property owner and Bay resident. Supervisors seek Road project status

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors is requesting a county engineer status report regarding the incomplete Firetower Road widening and repaving project.

Herbert deBuys of Bay St. Louis, owner of Santa's Forest Christmas tree farm on Firetower Road appeared at a Monday supervisors' meeting to request the status report because the road is in poor condition and he feels the project is grossly behind schedule.

The road work by J.J. Pryor Contractors, Inc. of Laurel is a state aid project titled SAP-23.

Walter Gez, board attorney, suggested the supervisors obtain a project status report from Lawrence Seals of Picayune, county engineer, and penalize the contractor if the project is exceeding its time limitation.

deBuys, a retired Air Force colonel and aeronautical engineer, questioned why the supervisors did not receive monthly progress reports on such projects, but received no reply.

"This project is titled SAP-23 and I think I'm one of the eggs," he stated.

"The contract for this project was 120 working days. It's been about 300 days since the project began and there hasn't been any movement on the road for the last four months," deBuys reported.

He noted several days of rain had probably delayed the project, but for the last few weeks there has been no rain. He said he has been driving on the road and it is in poor condition. up there," deBuys stated.

"I'm concerned because my corner was probably one of the biggest pieces of property taken for the project—about three acres," he reported.

deBuys complained that usable access ramps to his property from the road promised by Seals and District Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner also have not yet been installed.

He also complained he had to have his car pulled through the road with a neighbor's tractor to travel to and from his land.

Other neighbors are experiencing the same access problems, deBuys said.

Seal was unavailable for comment this week.

Sam Pernicelli, District Four supervisor, reported he was not aware of the road's condition until his brother, who operates a wrecker, got his vehicle stuck in the road.

A.A. (Dolph) Kellar said he recorded "15 straight days" of rainfall this past summer.

deBuys asked, "Well what should I do, just cross my fingers and hope for the best or what?"

But Courange, District One supervisor, offered the motion requesting the report. Pernicelli seconded it, and the board members approved the action.

Courrage defeats Peterson in rerun of run-off election

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Incumbent Hancock County Supervisor of District One, Bert Courrage, regained the Democratic nomination in a special rerun of a run-off election between him and Robert Peterson Jr. on Tuesday in two precincts.

Unofficial returns for the precincts of Arlington and Waveland East gave Courrage an unofficial count of 652 to 417.

These totals added to the voting of the precincts of Ansley, Lakeshore, and Clermont Harbor from the run-off primary held on Aug. 23, gives Courrage an unofficial 1,052 to 870 edge over Peterson.

COURRAGE OFFICIAL WINNER

The Democratic Executive Committee certified Bert Courrage as the party's nominee for Board of Supervisors of District One Wednesday night. The committee reviewed 17 challenged votes, of which four were accepted.

Two were cast for Courrage, and two for Robert Peterson Jr.

The committee certified the tally as, Courrage 1,054, and Petersons 872.

Some of the votes not counted were by persons who had moved and not notified the registrar of voters, while others registered too late to qualify under state law for the special rerun election.

Jerry Helmsmann, circuit clerk, researched the record for each challenged vote Wednesday and reported to the committee which acted on each one separately.

Arlington and Waveland East.

On Tuesday, Peterson said, "It was encouraging seeing how many people got out to vote today. I feel that the result of this election, will cause our future elections be run in a proper manner."

Peterson when contacted on Wednesday stated, "I would like to thank all of the people who have worked so hard for my campaign during the three elections. I hope this is the last one they have like this in Hancock County."

"It is an awful disappointment to win, and then five weeks later, lose. I sure hope that the entire county will benefit from this election," Peterson added.

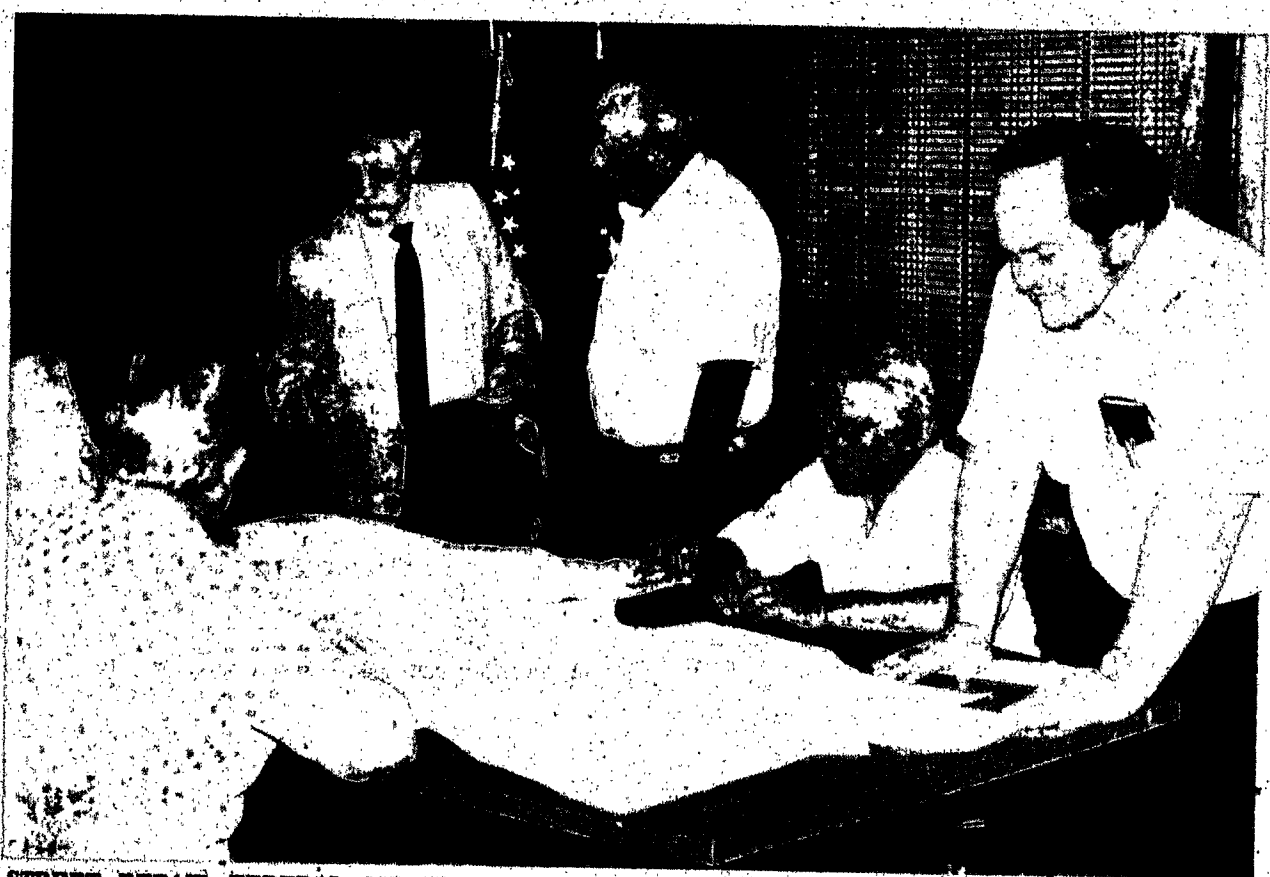

In Arlington Precinct, Tuesday's count gave Courrage an unofficial 192 to 160 vote, on Aug. 23 Peterson led 173-167.

Waveland East gave Courrage a 400-257 edge, while on Aug. 23, the incumbent held a 353-312 lead.

In the run-off on Aug. 23, Peterson had defeated Courrage by some 18 votes, and a protest was lodged by Courrage on some voting irregularities in which the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee called for a rerun in the two precincts. Longo awaiting supervisor decision before pushing Bay site petition

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Waveland Mayor John Longo is awaiting a Hancock County Board of Supervisors' advertisement stating its intent to issue bonds to either purchase a site or finance construction of a new Hancock General Hospital building.

Longo said Tuesday that he will then submit a petition calling for a referendum regarding the location of a new Hancock General Hospital site on US-90 just east of Drinkwater Road in Bay St. Louis.

But the mayor said, based on advice by City Attorney Lucien Gez, the petition can only be circulated after the supervisors advertise their intent to issue general obligation or revenue bonds to either property purchase or construction of the new hospital.

Longo said he has a referendum across after the Board of Supervisors meets Tuesday night. He said he has a referendum across after the Board of Supervisors meets Tuesday night. He said he has a referendum across after the Board of Supervisors meets Tuesday night.

Waveland hospital location on Nicholson Avenue be selected.

The board ultimately recommended the Bay location after the supervisors rejected the Waveland site and the Bay St. Louis City Council voted to oppose the suggestion.

The mayor said he objects to the trustees' decision change because most of them met with the aldermen at a recent Waveland Board of Aldermen meeting just after the supervisors' re-

Mayor Longo reports

Waveland to build new cemetery on Gulfside

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A new City of Waveland cemetery will be constructed on the north side of Gulfside Drive next to Central Fire Station, Mayor John Longo reported Tuesday.

The Waveland Board of Aldermen at a meeting that evening approved a recommendation by Longo to purchase the some four acres owned by Joe Buccola, a Bay St. Louis real estate agent, for $25,000.

Longo said the city needs the property to build another cemetery because the present facility just north of the Seaboard System Railroad tracks is almost filled except for a few spaces in family plots.

The aldermen agreed to pay Buccola over the next three years in annual amounts of $5,000 and two $10,000 payments, respectively.

Longo said he requested the first payment of $5,000 because of the city's depressed sales tax collections resulting from the ongoing economic recession.

The mayor feels economic recovery is in the near future and will allow the city to pay the remaining higher installments.

Longo reported the going interest rate, which he speculated is about 10 to 12 percent, would be appropriately added to the payments.

Longo said the aldermen also agreed to move to its proper location another section of city fence infringing on property on the south side of Gulfside owned by Alice Scafide of Bay St. Louis.

At a July aldermen meeting, Buccola met with the officials regarding both of the fence infringements.

He requested the city either move the fence—surrounding the city fire station, barn, a water well, sewage treatment plant and Hancock Animal Shelter—to its proper location on the north side or purchase his entire four acres for $30,000.

Buccola at that time said Scafide might be willing to sell the infringed property on the south side.

Lucien Gex, city attorney, threatened to expropriate Buccola's fenced property, but the real estate agent argued Waveland would be unsuccessful in such an action.

In another matter discussed at the Tuesday night regular meeting at City Hall, the aldermen agreed to table designating certain streets for Federal Urban Road System aid until its mid-month meeting to allow time to coordinate efforts with Bay St. Louis and the county.

Ned Boudreaux, transportation planning head of Gulf Regional Planning Commission in Gulfport, requested the aldermen approve designating portions of Waveland and Nicholson Avenues and St. Joseph Street, and all of Old Spanish Trail and Central Avenue within the city limits as eligible roads in the federal system.

The planner said the major changes from previous recommendations include exclusion of Beach Boulevard and Coleman Avenue.

Boudreaux and the aldermen at a previous meeting decided to exclude the boulevard to improve chances of securing funding to adequately repair the crumbling beachfront thoroughfare.

At the Tuesday meeting, Boudreaux said Beach Boulevard in Waveland might be reconsidered as a State Aid Project because it is an extension of the Clermont Harbor and Bayou Cadet portion outside city limits already included in the SAP program.

He noted that GRPC staff and two county supervisors are in Washington, D.C. attempting to secure some type of funding to repair the boulevard and its eroding protective seawall and beach.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency has assisted in the boulevard's repair after natural disasters such as hurricanes, Boudreaux said.

But after he reported Bay St. Louis is leaving its portion of the boulevard in the federal urban systems program, Gex and Longo suggested the two other local government entities be made aware of Waveland's intentions before the aldermen make a final decision.

Senior Citizen Happenings

By EVE McDONALD
FISH FRY FUN

The 120 Senior Citizens that attended the fish fry at McLeod Park this past Friday really had a great time. The weather was beautiful, the fish was plentiful and delicious, and we had a nice group of guests and prizes.

The seniors only had to pay $1 for their dinner and part of the reason was that Mike Neacase donated drinks, along with McDonald's Hamburgers who donated five gallons of their super orange drink.

Big John Rutherford and his gang did all of the cooking along with donating the fried potatoes. Our good friend K.C. Mitchell of the Silver Creek Catfish House picked up all of the ingredients for us and made up the coleslaw and hush puppies. He has a special touch with those items.

Those that helped us serve were Supervisors A.A. Kellar, James Travira, Bert Courge, and Sam Perniciaro.

Mary Caillier and Mike Neacase were out there helping too.

In fact, we really had a lot of helpers as those at each table that were able would help those that needed extra help.

RSVP and Jean Bell really helped out a lot with transportation as well as serving. They are always willing to coordinate with us on these outings.

Pat Harvill drew for prizes from Riemann's Funeral Home and presented them to the lucky winners.

Princess Fahey did the same from the Edmond Fahey Funeral Home.

Both of these lovely ladies have given of themselves and gone the extra mile in assisting whenever they know we are trying to make our occasions special.

Frances Graves donated a hair wash and set to the winner of the bead guessing game. Thanks Frances!

WORLD'S FAIR

We are working with a group from all areas of the Coast to come up with some special trips to the fair. We already have a price of $25 each for round trip bus fare and entrance ticket to the fair.

We are going to make contact with the officials and see if we can get the daily tickets at a discount if we buy a large number.

We are also considering a special grandparent/child day for the fair. The same daily fair rate applies to senior citizens (55 and over) and to children 4 to 11, $14.

This trip might be more fun if taken on the Amtrak train. It would probably leave Bay St. Louis about 8:30 a.m. and return about 8:30 p.m. We don't know the cost as yet.

Anyhow, be thinking about it and start saving your money. We will only consider the months of May, September, and October and only week days.

You may want Santa to give you this for Christmas! Put it on your list.

Anyone wanting to work on this committee, please call Rosine Jushaway at 467-9292.

Longo.....

jection and apparently indicated at that time they still favored the Waveland site.

Then the trustees met secretly a few days later and changed their recommendation, Longo added.

The supervisors have now directed the trustees to devise a financing scheme for the new facility.

Gex said Wednesday that based on the poor financial condition of all local governments, the county will probably have to issue the revenue bonds which would be offered to private investors and repaid over a 30-year period from hospital revenues or general obligation bonds which would be financed by an increase in property taxes and be decided by a referendum.

The supervisors recently placed on the November general election ballot a proposition asking voter approval of a property tax increase to build a $2.5 million County Criminal Justice Facility to replace the outdated County Jail in Bay St. Louis.

Gex said a petition asking for a referendum regarding the hospital location would have to contain the legal signatures of at least 1,500 voters or 20 percent of the county's electorate.

"I don't believe they can start circulating the petition until the supervisors advertise their intention to issue bonds," the city attorney stated.

Bay council OK's $121,000 Central Avenue resurfacing

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

The Bay St. Louis City Council Tuesday approved a $121,000 federally-funded resurfacing project for Central Avenue.

Street repair and drainage problems occupied the attention of the Bay St. Louis City Council at its Tuesday meeting.

Buddy Broadway of Broadway Engineers reported on his study of alternatives to repairing portions of Central Avenue, Washington Street and Beach Boulevard.

Following his recommendations, the council moved to undertake the necessary repair, using federal monies from the Urban Systems Project.

The Central Avenue project will be an open ditch section, as opposed to one with a curb and gutter. Estimated cost for the entire project, from Washington Street to the city limits, will be about $121,000.

Broadway noted a curb-and-gutter project would cost some $170,000. Of that cost, $90,750 can be paid from the Urban Systems Account.

Some $111,000 remains in that account, with another allocation of about $31,000 due in January.

Council member James Thriffley moved that Broadway be authorized to prepare an application for the Central Avenue project and also to prepare plans to widen North Beach Boulevard in the downtown business district, including the 100 block and part of the 200 block.

The motion passed 4 to 1, with Councilman Gene Taylor voting nay, saying he questioned the cost involved for only about one mile of road.

The council authorized overlay work from US-90 to North Beach Boulevard on North Second Street, and also to include Reese Street. This overlay work is to be included with previous advertisements for bids on resurface materials.

The council also asked Broadway to prepare a cost estimate for a new culvert to improve drainage in Spanish Acres and the surrounding area.

Council attorney Joseph Gex noted the council will have to get approval from Seaboard System Railroad before any actual work can be done on that project.

Mayor Larry Bennett reported that the railroad ditch on the north side of Railroad Avenue from St. Charles Street to Webb Street, requires cleaning to help drainage in Spanish Acres, a project estimated to cost between $800 and $1,200.

He also requested authorizing Naylor Municipal Services of Baton Rouge to clean the sewer lines on Carroll Avenue at a total cost of $4,580. The council approved both projects.

City Clerk Eddie Favre reported bids received to repair pumps at a lift station near St. Augustine Seminary are not satisfactory.

On recommendation from Superintendent of Utilities, Bill Johnson, the council voted to rescind its motion of Sept. 29 declaring an emergency situation, to reject all bids and to advertise again.

Because all bidders indicated an eight-week delivery time, the council agreed that arrangements should be made to go ahead with a bypass hook-up and shutdown of the pumps as soon as possible.

In other business, the council authorized the city clerk to advertise for a computer system for the city; instructed Bennett to work with a professional landscaper on a beautification project for the downtown parking lot; and moved to reinstate the practice of having a police patrol for the downtown area on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Council voted to hold a public hearing on the proposed zoning map at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 10 at Valena C. Jones Center.

The council recessed until noon Friday.

Salvation Army opening Bay-Waveland Thrift Store

The grand opening of a new Salvation Army Thrift Store is slated for 9 a.m. Friday at 1320 US-90 in Waveland.

Mayors John Longo of Waveland and Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis and L.J. Breaux, president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, will participate in a ribbon cutting.

James McDaniel, chairman of The Salvation Army Advisory Board at Gulfport, and Major Robert B. Kitchen, commanding officer, will preside.

"This will be the third store in our Gulf Coast Salvage Rehabilitation Program," Kitchen said.

"We are especially pleased that it will be located in the Bay-Waveland, because with stores at Biloxi and Gulfport, now all the Coast people will have easy access to our services," he added.

Kitchen is also director of The Salvage Rehabilitation Program. John Friday, recently retired from the Air Force, will supervise the program.

The new Bay-Waveland Thrift Store will be open 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., Mondays through Saturdays.

Items to be offered for sale will include furniture, appliances, clothing, shoes, books, bric-a-brac, and other used household goods.

Citizens in the area are invited to make contributions to the store or call for pickups when a telephone has been installed in a few days.

Items to be offered for sale will include furniture, appliances, clothing, shoes, books, bric-a-brac, and other used household goods.

BAY ST. LOUIS

Quotables by Cuevas

A fund raising event supporting the United Way of Hancock County will be held on Sunday.

It will be a Cut-A-Thon sponsored by Shear's Delight, Highway 90, Bay St. Louis.

The event will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., and a donation of $8 is being asked for a shampoo and cut.

John Miller, owner of Shear's Delight, has sponsored this event before for the United Way. This is for a very good benefit, as the United Way supports so many agencies in Hancock County.

We are hoping many folks will stop by Miller's shop for a shampoo and cut after or before church Sunday.

On Monday evening we were amazed at the rainbow on display while at Our Shopping Center during a shower.

It was raining and the sun was out, and the end of the rainbow looked like it was on US-90 at the entrance to the shopping center from the sidewalk in front of the stores.

We always heard when we were small there was a pot of gold at the end of a rainbow, but this must have been the wrong end. Anyway, when one got near the highway, the end moved further away.

One of our subscribers who lives off St. Charles Street visited us this week, commenting about a situation he has been trying to have remedied.

His complaint is that there is no street sign on Beach Boulevard and St. Charles Street.

We can remember a sign being there not too long ago, but apparently it, like many other directional signs have been destroyed accidentally or on purpose.

We are hoping a new sign will replace the one which is missing, as it is hard for folks unfamiliar with the area to find the street without a sign.

The Bay High Tigers high school football team will journey to Long Beach Friday night for action.

The Tigers will have their hands full with the Bearcats, and it should be a very good game.

Bay High has won some very exciting games this season.

The defensive unit is one of the best in the area, and we know Snuffy Smith, head coach, is proud of how few points the Tigers have given up this year.

We feel Long Beach is very hungry, so Bay High will have to be all out to take another victory for this season.

The Hawks of Hancock North Central, after a very impressive Homecoming victory last week against East Central, will visit St. John's Thursday night at Milner Stadium.

Now remember, this is a Thursday night game and it will be in Gulfport.

The Hawks—like Bay High, 4-1 for the season—have been playing some very good ball.

There are times when St. John's seems to put extra effort out against the Hawks, but we know Irvin Favre, head coach, will have his team well prepared.

The Rock-A-Chaws of St. Stanislaus will take a long bus trip Friday, when they journey to Mobile for an encounter with St. Paul's.

The Rocks played a good game last week against Bay High, but were unable to move in for many scores and lost by three points.

Stanislaus should take St. Paul's this week, as we know Vernon Powell, head coach, has been getting the Rocks ready all week.

The only home action on Friday night will be the Pass Christian Pirates who play host to East Central.

Pass Christian has been sluggish at times this season and with a good effort should get a victory.

We hope many folks will be in the stands this week supporting the teams of their choice.

HOME COOKING

What we're all about...

Newspapers are many things to many people.

A newspaper is the stuff with which mothers line kitchen cabinets, and clothes cabinets, and pantry shelves.

They make fine stoppers for kerosene cans, and linings for the waste basket or garbage can.

A newspaper is that in which the businessman wraps his money bag at day's end; it is an excellent wrapper for dirty diapers, too.

A newspaper has more serious uses, though.

It is that indelible record of a person's life; it heralds his arrival, notes his graduation from high school, marks his marriage, proclaims his offspring, takes notice of his contributions—both good and bad—to the community, and finally, it headlines under the obituary column his going away.

A newspaper can be good or bad; it can help or hinder, be truthful or deceitful; it can lead or it can follow; it can bellow or it can whimper.

A newspaper tells you when to vote, when you have jury duty, or when you are being sued; it might attempt to tell you how to vote, or what to do, but that is your own business.

A newspaper reminds you of your debt to the community, or public responsibility, or Monday night's bowling and of Friday night's basketball game.

A newspaper encourages you to take an interest in civic affairs, to go to church on Sunday. It asks only that it be read.

A newspaper is that which is pro-freed by the banker for mistakes; compared by the butcher for prices; picked through by the town gossip for court news, and scanned by the man in the tavern for something to argue about.

A newspaper is a calendar of events, a recorder of deeds, a salesman, a buyer, a letter from home, proof of legal happenings and a permanent community record.

A newspaper is pictures, words, paragraphs, opinions and facts.

A newspaper can make you mad, or happy; it can heighten your optimism or darken your pessimism; it can provoke you to action or solidify your indolence and indifference.

A newspaper is that which is read by people; and after the advertisements, coupons and scrapbook clippings have been removed, it is discarded... although sometimes mothers, and children, and daddies, and others, find serviceable uses for it.

All things change, said Mark Twain, with the passage of time. The price of a newspaper or the price for an advertisement necessarily changes; technology has changed the way newspapers are printed, the way they look; the "printing office" of yesterday is in no way, shape or form like the computer room of today.

But some aspects of the trade have not changed. Newspapers remain an indelible record of the community. Most attempt to be the conscience of their community. The ideals they serve are as unswerving and as unchanging as the printed word itself.

The People's Business

TINY TOWN IN THE NATIONAL SPOTLIGHT

When Chickasaw County and the town of Houston, Mississippi, were founded in 1836 the area's economy was surviving principally on two cotton gins, a coffin maker, three tailors, a saddle shop, a boot and shoe shop, a tanner, and two carriage and buggy builders.

My mid century—1850—two grist mills, four sawmills, and four more carriage and buggy builders had been added to the community's "industrial complex." That mid 19th century "complex" produced a gross annual product valued at just over $35,000 and provided manufacturing jobs for 63 Houstonians.

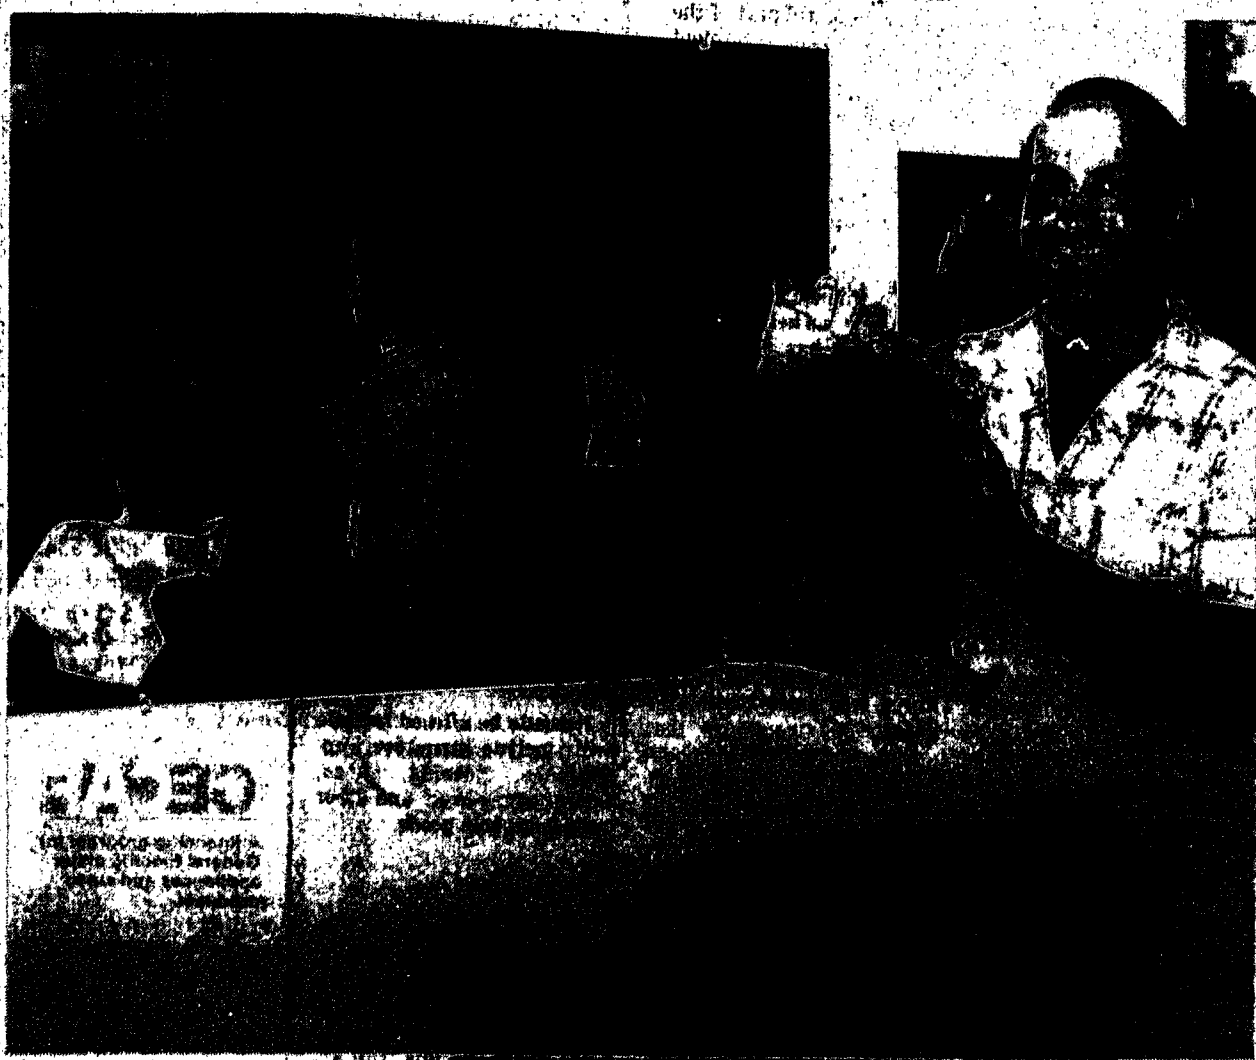

A century and a half later, Houston, Mississippi, boasts of more than 2,700 manufacturing jobs, but its industrial base is still largely home grown, home owned, and home operated.

That home-grown, home-owned, home-operated "industrial complex" of the 1980s has, in fact, captured the national spotlight. This Northeast Mississippi community of just over 3,700 population, is the envy of the tiny towns of the nation with its 15 home-grown, home-owned, and home-operated manufacturing plants.

Each year the story of home-grown industry in Houston, Ms., is shared with attendees at the national Industrial Development Institute at the University of Oklahoma.

Two years ago the Mississippi Economic Council published a case study entitled, "Home-Owned Industry in Houston, Mississippi," and that study has gone across the country.

Houston, Ms., has become an example for America—an example of what a small community can do when it has big leadership.

UW CUT-A-THON SUNDAY... The United Way of Hancock County will hold a Cut-A-Thon on Sunday, October 9, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Shear's Delight, Highway 90, Bay St. Louis. A donation of $8 is requested for a shampoo and cut. The event is sponsored by John Miller, owner of Shear's Delight. The United Way supports many agencies in Hancock County.

Objections raised to desecration of one of Mississippi's most beautiful wild rivers

October 4, 1983
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Gentlemen:

This month's issue of Mississippi Outdoors features an article on the Okatoma River, as it is today, with pictures. The article also mentions that there is a federal project proposed to channelize the river.

The Okatoma, flowing parallel to Highway 49 between Hattiesburg and Jackson, is one of Mississippi's most beautiful wild rivers, a canoeing and fishing stream with occasional white water rapids.

Before such irreversible damage is done to the river, the pros and cons of such a venture should be weighed very carefully, and some consideration given to the imponderables—such as the joys provided to the thousands who visit each year.

As one old-timer said, "If God wanted the Okatoma to run in a ditch, he'd put one there!"

He's got a point. Any effort you might make to have this project reviewed would surely be appreciated.

I wrote to the Soil Conservation Service on this subject.

Sincerely,
Paul L. Vegas

Homeowner finds missing equipment mysteriously returned

Oct. 3, 1983
EDITOR

Dear Sir,

Good neighbors should get thanks! A few months ago I returned home from a vacation and found that the water pump had been unbolted and taken from the well.

For a day water had to be gotten from service stations in plastic milk cartons.

The next morning the pump was found lying in the doorway of the well-house.

The anonymous neighbor should be thanked.

There are probably many anonymous good neighbors around. Thanks again!

IN CONGRESS

By Cong.
Trent Lott

The House turned its attention last week to a variety of legislative business.

We passed a $187.5 billion defense bill, defeated the proposed coal slurry pipeline and decided further study was necessary on a bill involving U.S. exports.

The House also approved a resolution aimed at allowing U.S. troops to remain in Lebanon for up to 18 months as part of a multi-national peacekeeping force.

COAL SLURRY

The coal slurry bill would have allowed construction of a pipeline in which coal from western states would be mixed with water and transported to other regions of the country for generation of electricity.

It was opposed by railroads, railroad unions, environmentalists and others who were concerned it might deface some land to be used. There were also those who were worried about the question of eminent domain, that private property rights were not being protected and that some states' rights were also in jeopardy.

On the other hand, it was a situation where coal possibly could have been moved more cheaply across the country with relatively little environmental damage. The proponents argued that the end result could have been lower electric bills.

LEBANON

The resolution on U.S. troops in Lebanon carried emotional debate and, frankly, came out as a mixed bag. There were those who did not think American troops should be involved at all and there were others who did not think Congress should be trying to conduct foreign policy.

Still others felt the period of 18 months was too long a time to commit our troops.

The resolution passed, though, because no one had a better alternative. It was a non-partisan debate and vote marked by an unusual degree of cooperation among the leaders of both parties.

Corporation. In addition to his work for Harrison County, he is in the real estate investment business and operates a small pecan farm. McDonald is former vice-chairman of the Gulf Coast Wastewater Commission and former treasurer of the Harrison County CETA program. He is also a member of the Pass Christian and Long Beach Chambers of Commerce, the Pass Christian Yacht Club, Pass Christian Golf Club, the St. Stanislaus Sideline Club, and the Long Beach High School Booster Club. McDonald is a graduate of St. Stanislaus High School and received a BA in health and education from the University of Southern Mississippi. He is married to the former Elaine Nixon and they have three children; Brent, India, and Tyler. They are members of Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church.

United Way agency sponsoring cocaine abuse seminar

A seminar addressing cocaine and featuring two nationally known experts will be sponsored by the Committee on Alcoholism & Drug Abuse for Greater New Orleans, a United Way Agency, "Home of the 524 H-E-L-P Number," Tuesday, Oct. 11 at the Gateway Hotel in Metairie. Ronald J. Catanzaro MD, diplomate of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology, founder and chairman of the board of the Palm Beach Institute, and recognized medical authority on chemical dependencies, will be one of the featured speakers.

Catanzaro headed the Florida Alcoholism Program in the early 60s, directed the Mental Health Program, which included alcoholism and drug abuse, in Missouri, and opened the Palm Beach Institute, one of the first private treatment facilities for problem drinkers and substance abusers.

His first facility was located in West Palm Beach, Fla. Since then he has opened a number of other facilities, one in nearby Gulf Breeze, Fla., called the Friary.

Catanzaro attained national and international recognition some years back when he promoted the concept of familyization which has since been accepted as integral part of the substance abuse treatment process.

He has addressed medical and lay groups all over the world.

In recent years, Catanzaro has attained notoriety by the treatment approaches he has developed to address the growing cocaine problem. Some prominent NFL stars have sought his help.

Catanzaro has just completed the production of a cocaine film, "Hooked on a Line," which will soon be released.

He will bring to the seminar years of experience, deep insight into substance abuse, and in particular expertise in cocaine.

Other speakers will include Frank E. Minyard MD, coroner, City of New Orleans. Minyard is president of the Louisiana State Coroners Association, Captain in the U.S. Naval Reserve, member of numerous civic groups and substance abuse agencies, and is nationally known as an expert in the field of drug abuse.

In addition to the local efforts, Dr. Minyard has lectured and consulted on cocaine abuse in many parts of the world.

The seminar is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 11 at the Gateway Hotel in Metairie.

are a showing of the new film, "Hooked on a Line," review of the Cocaine Epidemic; disease process and recovery—all of which will be covered by Dr. Catanzaro.

"Life, Death, the Streets and Cocaine," will be the topic presented by Minyard. Both experts will have a question and answer session to allow for audience participation.

In addition, a recovered cocaine user will share his personal experience with the group, and there will be a luncheon speaker.

Cocaine has been the topic of numerous news stories of recent years. Its use and abuse has reached such national proportions, that a Cocaine Hot-Line has recently been established to enable people to obtain information and help. Local law enforcement agencies have made large cocaine busts, and while its cost has prevented more extensive use, according to the Committee on Alcoholism & Drug Abuse, which has a 24 hour HELP line, the calls requesting information and help for cocaine related problems have increased.

The seminar registration is limited. Information and registration forms can be obtained for CADA by calling 524 H-E-L-P.

The Committee on Alcoholism & Drug Abuse is a United Way Agency, one of the many agencies helped by the present campaign being held by the United Way.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, handicapped individuals too often cannot enjoy the benefits of our society because of a lack of employment opportunities; and

WHEREAS, through coordinated efforts by disabled and non-disabled persons, we must renew our commitment to do all that we can to afford to handicapped Mississippians the opportunity for maximum independence, full access to our society, and the chance to develop and use their talents and skills through the availability of meaningful employment opportunities; and

WHEREAS, to affirm our commitment to meeting the goal of independence for handicapped individuals, the Congress has called for the designation of the first full week in October of each year as National Employ the Handicapped Week;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, William F. Winter, Governor of the State of Mississippi, do hereby proclaim October 2-8, 1983, as in Mississippi, and urge all Mississippians to join in helping to remove the barriers to equal opportunity for handicapped individuals and to aid in their search for productive employment.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Mississippi to be affixed.

DONE at the Capitol in the City of Jackson, the 23rd day of September in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

YOU & YOUR CAR

Be A Saving Driver

You spend 23.8 cents a mile driving—if you have a 1983 car, drive it 15,000 miles a year, and keep it four years. That takes into account price, financing, fees, taxes, routine maintenance, fuel, oil and tires, according to a 1983 American Automobile Association study.

But driving experts say you can put a sizable dent in your car costs by following a simple routine, starting at your service station.

First, buy gasoline with just enough octane rating to prevent "serious engine knock." Over-buying octane just wastes money. A modern fuel like Mobil Detergent Gasoline, by inhibiting dirt formation in your carburetor, contributes to money-saving efficiency. If you're pumping your own gasoline, don't overfill, and remember, gasoline expands on a hot day.

A spot survey of 100 cars using self-serve found 56 at least a quart low on oil, 34 needing radiator coolant, 33 with low pressure in at least one tire, 29 needing power-steering fluid, 28 low on brake fluid, 27 needing battery water—all adding to potential car costs. Paying a little attention now can mean paying less money later.

TO DIE LATER TODAY—Good homes with fenced yards are desperately needed for these two female dogs which will be exterminated late this afternoon at the Hancock County Animal Shelter in Waveland if they are not adopted today. The dogs were scheduled for extermination Monday, but the Bay-Waveland Humane Society has asked the shelter managers to delay extermination so the organization with the assistance of The Sea Coast Echo can hopefully find homes for these unusually fine and gentle pets. Cinnamon, above, is a gold mixed medium size hound breed that is always happy, lovable and gentle. Genevieve, below, is a small gentle mixed breed dog which would be an ideal pet for an older person willing to share a little love. For adoption information please telephone 467-0475 soon. FARMWEEK'S SEVENTH—Celebrating the beginning of the seventh season of "Farmweek," the award-winning Monday evening television series about Mississippi agriculture, are, left to right, Neely Tucker, an MSU communication student; Helen Brahan, reporter; Artis Ford, co-host and market reporter; Tyson Gair, co-host and co-producer; Colleen Wood and James Booth, reporters. At 7:30 p.m., Monday, Oct. 10, on Mississippi ETV, "Farmweek" will originate from 4-H Village at the Mississippi State Fair and will include a story about a Greenwood 4-H'er whose hobby is cloning plants. "Farmweek" is co-produced by Mississippi ETV and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Coast's first Chili Festival set

Gulfport's Rice Pavilion will be the site of the first annual Chili Festival Oct. 14 and 15.

"There has never been a Chili Festival on the Gulf Coast" and Ron Meyers Productions is very proud to bring a fine festival like this to the Gulf Coast, said promoter Ron Meyers.

Gates will open at 5 p.m. Friday. There will be no admission.

"We will have many varieties of chili. Friday's evening entertainment will be brought to you by the Port City Jazz Band playing beautiful Dixieland Jazz from 7 to 10 p.m.," Meyers added.

Saturday gates will open at 10:30 a.m.

Activities will include live country music, a country dance exhibition, free dance lessons, followed by a dance contest open to all.

The Chili Festival will feature many activities for children such as pony rides, games, numerous contests with beautiful trophies as prizes.

"We will have hayrides throughout the day and special moonlight hayrides," Meyers added.

Under the pavilion will be a variety of exhibitors displaying and selling various types of merchandise. Booths are still available for the fee of $25.

"The public is invited to come join in the festivities as well as participate free in our chili cook off. Prize's will be awarded for the first five places. Friday night and Saturday promises to be two days of family fun-filled excitement," Meyers said.

For further information you may phone Ron Meyers Productions at 896-9336.

Also this month Meyers will present another Giant Garage Sale Saturday, Oct. 29 with more than 60 dealer stations under one roof.

Jerry Heitzmann, Hancock County circuit clerk, said on Wednesday there were some 15 challenged ballots, which were going to be checked by the Executive Committee.

"Some of those challenged votes were apparently cast by persons not registered 30-days prior to state law, and it will be up to the committee to rule on them tonight," Heitzmann allowed.

A heavier vote was cast on Tuesday than in the primary run-off for the two precincts. The challenged votes were not added to Tuesday's totals.

A jubilant Courge on Tuesday said, "I feel we should have a voter registration, it is a must, and will correct a lot of our problems."

"I would like to offer special thanks to my wife and supporters, and thank everyone for coming out and voting again," Courge added.

Tommy Moran, an independent candidate is slated to face Courge in the General Election on Nov. 8.

State commission hoping for south Hancock survey

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The State Wildlife Conservation Commission is hoping the Legislature will fund a marine survey to determine wetland ownership in south Hancock County.

The commission has tabled considering a change to the Coastal Wetlands Use Plan to allow mineral leasing and exploration in that area pending the survey.

having interested oil companies paying a share of the costs.

But the representative noted that most citizens attending the summer hearings objected to oil company involvement in these surveys.

Macedonia Baptist Church to celebrate anniversary

The Macedonia Missionary Baptist Church, Morris Street, Waveland will celebrate its 20th anniversary on Sunday, Oct. 9.

Rev. Lee Edward Morris, pastor, invites all former members and friends to attend special services at 10:45 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

Rev. Morris will give the morning message.

Rev. R.N. Sams of Pearl-ington will be special speaker for the Sunday afternoon service, and special music will be provided by The Greater Mount Zion A.M.E. Choir.

A pre-anniversary service will be Friday, 7:30 p.m. with Dr. Lawrence Collins Sr., pastor, First Missionary Baptist, Bay St. Louis, guest speaker.

The representative, who is also an attorney, noted the commission's tabling might delay oil and gas mineral leasing or actual exploration in south Hancock.

When asked if the oil companies could integrate a section if the state did not lease, Compretta said he did not know, but the wetland use plan change was necessary before actual drilling could begin.

Compretta agreed the financially strapped state needs the additional revenues from oil and gas leasing and production, but not at the expense of Hancock landowners.

He said one possible way to finance the costly marine survey would include

Mississippi Realtors to convene in Biloxi

The Mississippi Association of Realtors' 1983 Annual Convention, scheduled for Oct. 12-16 at the Royal d'Iberville Hotel in Biloxi will focus on education, successful business operations, economic conditions, political activities and the promotion of private property ownership.

"Unlock the Door to Success - Communication and Cooperation, Your Keys In '83" is the theme of the association's 58th annual convention, which is expected to draw over 300 members and other persons interested in Mississippi's real estate industry.

Keynote speakers include Mississippi's gubernatorial candidates Bill Allain, Leon Bramlett and Charles Evers;

David D. Roberts, 1983 first vice president of the National Association of Realtors (NAR); J.W. McArthur, 1984 regional vice president-elect of NAR; Albert J. Mayer, III, president-elect of the Realtors National Marketing Institute; Pat Parks, president-elect of the Women's Council of REALTORS of NAR; Dan Baker of Bulverde, Texas, banquet speaker; and Danny Cox of California, major educational speaker.

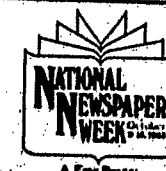

Other speakers and special programs include a real estate educational program by Peter Fox, president of Fox Systems, Inc. and George H. Guley, Jr., of Brookhaven, will be the Prayer Breakfast speaker.

The 1983 Annual Convention of the Mississippi Association of Realtors will feature excellent programs throughout designed to inform, enlighten and educate those in attendance.

Aside from these items and the 'business' of the association, several outstanding programs have been planned for just plain fun, relaxation and sporting competition.

Anyone interested in real estate, free enterprise and preservation of property rights, or anyone simply interested in hearing some outstanding speakers welcome to register for this convention by contacting the Mississippi Association of Realtors at P.O. Box 2454, Jackson, MS 39205, or calling (601) 355-0216.

Mauffray reunion planned

A Mauffray family reunion is planned at McLeod Park on Saturday, Oct. 9, starting at 11 a.m.

All persons of Mauffray ancestry are invited to attend, including those related to Mauffrays through marriage.

Bring lunch, refreshments and lawn chairs. For information in the Bay St. Louis area contact Conrad Mauffray, 487-4880, or Donald Mauffray, 487-4352, and in the Gulfport area, Wayne Mauffray, 864-3239, or Myrlin Mauffray, 864-2825.

PUBLIC NOTICE

A public hearing will be conducted by the Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission on Tuesday, October 11, 1983, at 7:00 p.m. at the Valena C. Jones Gymnasium for discussion of the final proposal of the Beach Front Ordinance.

All citizens and interested agencies are urged to attend so that the Commission may obtain citizen input.

Battered Pirates regrouping for Friday test with Hornets

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
A battered Pass Christian High School Pirate football team is regrouping due to injuries to hopefully face the East Central High School Hornets Friday night.

Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m. at Francis S. McDonald Stadium on North Street in Pass Christian.

Kenneth McKinney, Pirate head coach, reports eight of his players are suffering injuries as a result of the team's brutal contest with Stone County High School last Friday.

Included on the injury roster are Wide Out Mark Boyd, Linebacker Rodney Conway, and Tight End and Linebacker Eldred Belvin.

The head coach hopes he will have enough healthy players Friday night to field a ball team.

"Right now it looks like we're going to have trouble just putting people on the field. We're going to have to scrape together some players and probably play some sophomores," he stated.

McKinney notes the Pirates took a beating in the defensive second half of the Stone game.

Regarding the loss to Stone and the Pirates' present 1-4 season record, McKinney cites the team's lack of depth is evident with a team roster total of 28.

"If we had more depth we might be winning some of these games," the head coach states.

"But we're going to try to regroup and get ready for Friday night," he adds.

In Hancock-St. John contest tonight—

Hawks seeking revenge

By EDGAR PEREZ

Hancock's Hawks, cruising high on the updraft of a 38-0 homecoming win against East Central Friday, this week will swoop into Gulfport's Milner Stadium seeking revenge against the St. John Eagles.

The Eagles embarrassed the Hawks before a home crowd last year in Hawk Stadium, 27-0.

The Eagles are reportedly battered and bruised after a 28-7 plucking last week by North Forrest, ranked sixth among the state's small high schools.

St. John's 2-3 record includes a 20-12 loss to Lumberton, ranked No. 2 among small schools, and a one point 8-7 edge by St. Paul's of Mobile, Ala.

The Eagles, a non-conference foe for the Hawks, claims victories this year over St. Stanislaus, 14-6, and Mercy Cross, 15-14.

In addition to the revenge factor, Hancock Coach Irvin Favre feels a Hawk victory over the Eagles is essential to continue the team's momentum.

"We're in the running for first place in the Deep South Conference and we couldn't stand a letdown at this time," the coach stated.

In addition, the Hawks this week are listed as 16th statewide among Class-A schools in Mississippi on a sportswriters' poll.

Favre feels the HNC defense's number one chore Thursday will be to pressure the Eagle quarterback.

"If we don't keep extreme pressure on that quarterback, if we give him time to throw, Flemming will beat us," Favre explained in reference to the prowess of speedy Eagle wide receiver Eric Flemming who caught five passes for 199 yards to lead the St. John defeat of Mercy Cross.

Another veteran Eagle to be watched is offensive-defensive lineman Kerwin Cuevas, a six foot, 230 pound prospect who is being eyed by several college scouts.

"We are going to need a good settled defense, blocking Cuevas in the middle where he is used to being in control," Favre noted.

In addition to St. John strong spots, Favre is also concerned with his charges' propensity to attract attention from the referees.

The Hawks sustained a 165 yard loss in addition to nullification of considerable yardage gained on several long runs Friday night due to 12 calls by the officials.

"We are working this week to eliminate any mistakes which might give the Eagles an advantage," Favre added.

Hancock goes into the Eagle contest 4-1 overall and 3-0 in the Deep South Conference, tied for DSC first place with Pearl River Central.

Traveling east on US-90, Milner Stadium may be reached by turning left at the International House of Pancakes in Gulfport. The stadium is on the north side of L&N Railroad tracks.

Southern Cutting Futurity slated at Jackson Coliseum

The Cutting Horse has a high economic value. He can earn his keep at home and put on a splendid and entertaining performance by presenting a colorful action packed picture of intelligence.

Performance, regardless of color, sex or breed, is the guide to his value. In competition he is graded on his ability and success to slowly enter a herd of cattle, choose and separate a cow from the herd and prevent him from returning.

Cowsense at its highest degree is demonstrated with little or no help from the rider.

A cutting horse is judged on his natural ability as he works with a loose rein and maintains the proper balance to move quickly in any direction in order to block the cow that is determined to return to the herd.

The cutting horse deserves the high popularity and favor he has found with the public. This colorful presentation of intelligence of ranch cowpurses as they cut cattle is popular with all spectators.

"All you have to do is watch just one and you're hooked," said Commissioner Jim Buck Ross of the Mississippi

Department of Agriculture and Commerce.

On Nov. 3-5 at the Mississippi Coliseum in Jackson, the public will have an opportunity to attend the first annual Southern Cutting Futurity.

This particular competition is for three-year-olds sired by subscribed stallions from a five state area, Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee.

"It should prove to be one of the major activities in this area as the talented horses compete for an estimated $75,000 purse," Ross feels.

Action begins at noon, Thursday, Nov. 3, with the first round of open or professional competition followed by non-professional.

Second round is slated for Friday, Nov. 4.

The professional semi-finals will take place at noon Saturday with the finals of both professional and non-professional beginning at 7:30 p.m.

For information contact Dr. Lamar Thaggard, 601/267-4562 or Ben Emison, 601/724-4500.

Rock-A-Chaws to test state-rated St. Paul's

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will journey to Mobile, Ala. to tangle with St. Paul's Friday.

The location of the game has been rescheduled to be played at the Baker High School field, located on Airport Boulevard outside of Mobile, according to Vernon Powell, Stanislaus head coach.

Mobile is ranked No. 8 in the Alabama high school polls, Powell said.

Stanislaus lost a 7-10 game last week to Bay High in Tiger Stadium.

against the Tigers in which they scored. His team has worked to correct them this week, hoping not to make them again, Powell said.

"I am looking for a large number of Rock-A-Chaw supporters at Friday's game, which gets underway at 7:30 p.m.," Powell added.

Murphy edged by HNC

The Charles B. Murphy seventh and eighth grade Rockets gave a good show Monday night against Hancock North Central.

In the first quarter Bernard Burton of the Rockets made the first touchdown. The extra point was blocked.

In the second quarter Joe Harvey passed 25 yards to Joseph Carter to set up a touchdown by Donald Vince.

The extra point was again blocked.

Late in the second quarter Hancock made their first touchdown and extra point, fixing the score at 12 to 8 Rockets at halftime.

Late in the fourth quarter Hancock scored again.

Final score was 12 to 16 Hancock. Several fans questioned calls by officials against the Rockets.

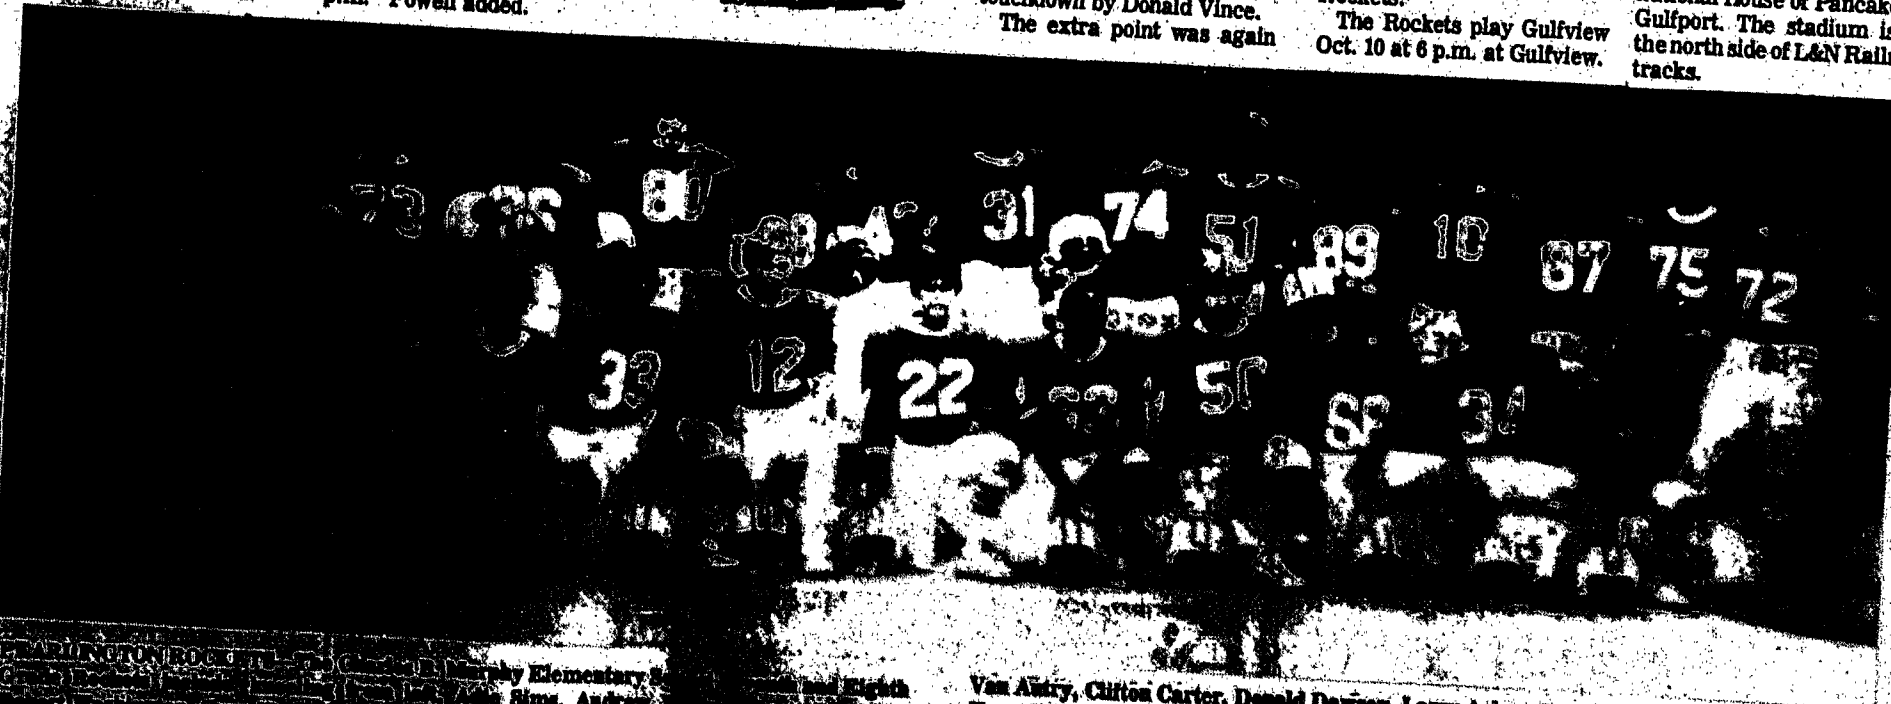

The Rockets play Gulfview Oct. 10 at 6 p.m. at Gulfview.

Bulldog golfers competing in LSU Invitational

After a stirring, 15-stroke triumph in the Mississippi Intercollegiate tourney, Mississippi State's men's golf squad has a rigorous task ahead in the LSU National Invitational at Baton Rouge, La., Wednesday through Friday.

State scored an MIT-record 826 (38-under-par) at the 6,400-yard MSU Golf Course last Monday and Tuesday in the west team tally for 54 holes in history.

"Of course, we were very pleased to win the MIT," said Coach Gary Meredith, "but we now have our work cut out for us. We hope that the depth we showed in the opener will be an asset again, and we hope to be a contender at LSU."

That might be easier said than done, but the Bulldogs have a lot of links momentum built from performances such as Hugh Royer's 13-under 203 total to win the MIT medal play after a two-hole, sudden-death playoff with defending Southeastern Conference champion Dave Peege of Mississippi.

"We were extremely pleased with the way that Hugh played, especially in the playoff for the title," Meredith said. "Pete Mathews (10-under 206) had three great rounds and Eric Booker (206 to tie Mathews for third overall) was really steady."

State is also looking for solid play out of junior college transfer Scott Gilreath of Montgomery, Ala., via Alex City (Ala.) JC after he shot 213 for the 54-hole tourney.

Mathews was contending for the individual title at last year's LSU National Invitational before rain shortened the three-round tourney to 36 holes. He came home with a three-under 141 for eighth in medal standings.

Mississippi State will also be looking to improve upon a team standing of 12th in the 1982 LSU Invite, hosted by the Tigers and MSU Sports Hall of Famer Frank Gumpert, the pro at the 6,750-yard, par-72 Sherwood Forest Country Club.

"The field is really going to be tough," Meredith said. "You have the 1983 NCAA runner-up Texas, and Houston (third in the NCAA last spring) is going to be hard to overcome."

Host LSU, Mississippi, Texas A&M, Arkansas, Florida State, Lamar, Oral Roberts, Memphis State (coming off the Murray State Invitational title), Oral Roberts, Alabama, Mississippi, and Arizona State are among some other names in the field.

Royer, a sophomore from Columbus, Ga., with a strokes per round average of 67.7, will play in the No. 1 spot for the Bulldogs while Mathews is returning to some familiar ground after being a High School All-American in the New Orleans-Harahan, La., area.

State's fifth member of the travel party is 1983 U.S. Amateur contender Stacey Richburg, a senior from Tupelo with an 11th-place finish in the MIT to his credit and a player who is making a fast recovery from illness last month.

Next up after the LSU Invite for the Bulldogs will be the Southern Mississippi/Broadwater Beach Invitational in Biloxi on Oct. 23-25.

FISHIN' TIPS

from...Tom Mann

QUESTIONS FROM THE MAIL BAG

MISTER TOM: How do you triangulate a spot so that you can return to it later?—Tricky Tom HELLO TOM: When you've caught fish offshore and want to return to that spot, first anchor your boat. Then study the permanent prominent landmarks around you. Say there's a windmill on top of a hill right in line with a point of land. That's one leg of your triangle. Then, at right angles you see a "V" in the hills in line with an old barn. This is your other triangle leg. Draw a sketch and you can return again to the same spot.

DEAR TOM: I read where some biologist had planted a radio in a bass to study its movements. How the heck could he get a radio inside a bass?—Sounds Fishy

HELLO FISHY: That radio which the biologist implanted is about the size of your little finger joint. It sends out beeps which he picks up on an aquaphone, so he can locate it, track its movements, and let it tell him things he'd never know otherwise.

ME: Is it true all bigmouth bass are females and all smallmouth bass are males?—Chinest Chally HELLO CHOLLY: I wouldn't touch that question with a 100-foot pole because if I did Ann would use it to beat bumps on my head! I notice you didn't use your right name either.

BIG MANN: I read in Bill Dance's new book, Bass'n' Objects, where you love to fish willows. Why willows?—Will-O-Whip
HELLO WILL: Bill's right. When bass are in the willows, man, they'll bust the daylight out of a crank bait like a Bazarback or pitchin' worm. They're usually there because the minnows are feeding on something in the willows. By the way, study Bill's book and you'll catch a lot more bass because it's chockfull of know-how.

DEAR MISTER MANN: What's the easiest way to plant brush?—Henry Hull
HELLO HENRY: Down south we take it out in bunches; weight it so it will sink, and bury these bunches in 15 to 20 feet of water off points or near creek entrances.

MERCURY OUTDOOR CONSULTANT

CAN EXTRA LURES

It's ironic that a modern sport fisherman will outfit himself with an efficient boat, motor and accessories, yet can't find a place to store his extra lures except underfoot.
Bass fishermen, for example, are notorious for having several rods rigged at one time. Extra lures, usually half a dozen or more, are usually tossed onto the deck or floor of the boat where they quickly become entangled with jackets, boat mooring lines, and other gear. While it's handy, this method of lure storage is hazardous because you could step on one and impale your foot on a hook. One solution to this problem is an empty three-pound coffee can. Mercury Outboards' fishing experts learned the trick from an inventive angler who has been making lure holders for fishing buddies. There are two types, each easy to make at home.

Dull any sharp edges on the lip of the can using a ball-peen hammer. For bass boats, measure the diameter of the post supporting the fishing seat and buy a hose clamp that will fit around the post. A car radiator hose clamp is fine. Make two slits in one side of the can an inch apart and halfway between top and bottom. Slip the clamp and through these and attach the can to the seat post. Extra lures are hung on the rim of the can where they're out of the way and safe from entanglement.

A second method is to mount the can in the center of a foot-square pine board using two flat-headed wood screws. The board provides a base to prevent the can from tipping over.

Centsable Changes Save Money & Add Comfort.

The Heat and Cool Pump is One Centsable Change.

Tom and Lyn Turner were willing to go along with the idea. They didn't really believe us when we said a Heat & Cool pump would save them money and keep them comfortable winter in, summer out. It was hard to believe that a simple change like that could make a real difference. But they listened to what Mississippi Power had to say.

See, during the winter there's always some heat in the air. The Heat & Cool pump moves this heat inside to warm your home. And during the summer the Heat & Cool pump automatically reverses this process to cool your home by removing heat and moisture from the inside.

But, as Tom and Lyn Turner found out, you don't have to understand it to appreciate it: The savings on your monthly electrical bill will be reason enough. Let Mississippi Power make the difference. For you.

Youth soccer group slates referee clinic

Bay Area Youth Soccer will conduct a referee's clinic Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Education Building, Main Street United Methodist Church on the corner of Second and Court Streets in Bay St. Louis.

Ed Croal from Gulfport, Mississippi Youth Soccer Association Referee Instructor for the Southern District, will conduct the morning course consisting of classroom instruction on Laws of the Game.

In the afternoon Waddy LeBourgeois will conduct an additional field clinic at St. Augustine Seminary.

This clinic is free, and is educational for all parents. BAYS is looking "for a few good men (and women)" to augment the current referee cadre.

Any parent who is not a coach and who would like to become involved with BAYS in an active manner may contact Waddy LeBourgeois, BAYS head referee, at the clinic or any other time.

The need is desperate so that our current referees do not have to work three and our games a day.

The league will be using a two-referee system for training purposes, teaming an experienced referee with a trainee.

Since the Fall season is a "fun" season, the trainees can learn from experience without having an impact upon team standings for the May Playdowns.

Also, trainees will only be scheduled for one game a weekend and will be scheduled so as not to conflict with a game their child will be playing in.

"Your support is critical to assure a successful soccer program for your youth," said Tom Demboski, league president.

This Saturday there will be soccer played at the St. Augustine Seminary field at 9 a.m. when Hancock Bank U-14

Select plays U-16 Alcan. Immediately following that game at 11 a.m. U-16 Sports World (Girls) will play Slidell U-14 Select.

"All of you should come and see these games. Even you who plan to attend the referee's clinic can take in the first half of the early game at least. Our regular Fall season will start in earnest next weekend for all age groups," Demboski added.

FALL TENNIS

Fall tennis gets underway in fast fashion Thursday through Sunday for Coach Ken Hyding and Mississippi State's men's squad at the Southern Intercollegiate tourney in Athens, Ga.

This massive meet, featuring players from over 50 colleges in the South, has a 120-man open singles draw and competition involving 64 doubles teams.

State will take a five-man unit, including two seniors, two sophomores, and a freshman, into the tourney which is hosted by the University of Georgia.

TIGHT NERVES

This materialistic age is often blamed for all our frustrated ambitions and nervous tension. When the person becomes tense and overwhelmed with anxiety, he is urged to take tranquilizers or rest from work. But it is a hard and poor remedy to follow when you are tied up inside. Authorities in our field have found that nervousness crops up on a person from the inside, and they usually blame outside conditions for causing them to be tense and even depressed. Studies indicate that there is a physical reason for nervousness, that it can and often does result from an interrupted nerve supply. This irritates the nervous system and slows down the life currents of the body. A Chiropractic examination can detect an actual nerve function, your peace of mind, and vigorous health again.

Academic standards affect Pearl River enrollment

Pearl River College has a record fall enrollment, but it's not as large an increase as PRC officials had anticipated. Dr. Willis Lott, director of admissions, said there's a one percent increase over last year's record. When late registration ended, 1,669 students were enrolled at the Poplarville campus, an increase of 18 over the fall '82 total.

Pearl River College implemented many new institutional restrictions and requirements this fall and officials are saying this is one of the reasons the increase was not larger.

"We had 80-100 students who did not come back because they were on institutional financial aid restrictions," said Dr. Lott. PRC has also upgraded its probation and suspension procedures and this eliminated a number of students.

Pearl River College's Financial Aid Program's Satisfactory Progress Regulations list the same procedures as probation and suspension, but also limits students to six semesters in school as a full-time student to complete a four semester program or three semesters for a one year program.

A student must adhere to these procedures to remain eligible for financial aid or scholarship.

"We are not turning students away," said Dr. Marvin R. White, president of Pearl River College, "but we are sending a message to students that they need to prepare themselves for their goals and dreams."

Pearl River College is turning to a philosophy of a stronger, better educational program for its students. This means more policies will be implemented to upgrade the educational process at the River.

Dr. White said the school is also upgrading its course offerings, as demonstrated by the new computer science department which was added this fall. High technology equipment is also being added to aid the academic and vocational-technical curriculum.

Of the students enrolled this fall at the Poplarville campus, 830 are academic, 506 technical and 333 vocational. More than 500 students are living on campus and another 475 are being transported daily from within the PRC six county district.

Pearl River's 1983 total enrollment which included students at the Forrest, Hancock, Lamar centers, as well as PRC's night college and industry start-up, will be released soon.

Academy; and Gifford Pace, Bay Senior High. The students attended their first chamber meeting last Tuesday and were introduced by Dick Koebab, education chairman. Christine Ling of Coast Episcopal is also a student director. (Staff photo by Ella Cuevas)

SSC Merit Semifinalists selected

Brother Paul Mulligan, principal of St. Stanislaus High School, has announced that two seniors have been named National Merit Semifinalists for the 1983-84 school session.

Michael Doyle and Michael McMahan are selected among the highest scorers in the state on the 1983 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) which was administered to over one million students throughout the United States.

The semifinalists represent the top one-half of one percent of those taking the test on a nationwide basis, and they become eligible to be named as National Merit Finalists. These finalists will be announced in April, 1984.

Doyle, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Doyle of Pass Christian, is presently in his sixth year at St. Stanislaus. He is an alpha honor roll student, and he is a member of the National Honor Society, the Varsity Quiz Bowl team and the Math and Science Team.

He has served as president of the French Honor Society and St. Stanislaus Amateur Radio Club.

McMahan is presently in his sixth year at St. Stanislaus, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McMahan, also of Pass Christian.

He is a member of the National Honor Society and the French Honor Society.

He is also a member of Project Do, a service organization at St. Stanislaus and is an alpha honor roll student named to the Principal's Honor Roll.

HOMECOMING

Three reunions are planned for Pearl River College's 74th Homecoming on Saturday, Oct. 8.

The class reunion for the 1929-30 freshman and sophomore classes will be held in the conference room of the Administration Building. The reunion for former students who attended PRC any time from 1934-35 will meet in the PRC Cafeteria and moments before the 8 p.m. PRC-East of the 1941 and '42 sophomore classes will meet in the Computer Science Building.

All three groups will meet at 4:30 p.m. in their designated areas. The PRC Homecoming activities will actually get started at 3 p.m. with the annual parade through the streets of Poplarville.

The crowning of the 1983 Homecoming Queen will take place immediately after the PRC Alumni Banquet in the PRC Cafeteria and moments before the 8 p.m. PRC-East Central football game.

MASTER'S DEGREE—Mark J. McCarthy of Bay St. Louis recently received his master's degree in physics from the University of California-Davis. McCarthy, an alumnus of St. Stanislaus, graduated cum laude from Loyola University in New Orleans where he majored in physics. While at Loyola he received a fellowship award for scholarship during his junior and senior years. Son of Mr. and Mrs. James McCarthy of Bay St. Louis, he is enrolled in a doctoral program leading to a PhD in physics and employed by UC-Davis as a physics instructor and a graduate assistant engaged in research.

Sid Caesar Says: Take Care of Your Lungs

It shocked restaurant owners and taxicab drivers in the early 1950's when people rushed home from their Saturday night out to watch Sid Caesar's "Your Show of Shows" on television.

Now, Caesar's hoping to startle people into not smoking.

As spokesman for the American Lung Association, Caesar can be seen holding a baton at a picture of damaged lungs and proclaiming, "Without lungs I wouldn't give a damn for the whole show." So take care of your lungs. They're only

Students said apathetic about right to vote

By JOE PILET
William Moore, who teaches American History in Long Beach High School, sounded a warning when he addressed the Friendship Oak Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution in the Diamondhead home of Mrs. H.S. Walker Jr.
"Our high school juniors and seniors are the foundation of what America will become tomorrow," Moore explained and added that "most of the students are disinterested in their rights to vote."
Moore's subject was The Treaty of Paris, the final peace treaty which ended the Revolutionary War. "This important treaty doubled the size of our country," Moore said "and gave American citizens their freedoms."

Crediting Benjamin Franklin largely with the successful negotiation of the terms of the treaty, Moore said "The people of France loved and respected Benjamin Franklin. They even adopted his hair style and style of dress!"

In his 13 years as a teacher of American History Moore has observed an erosion in family ties, church activities and patriotism.
"The world is at a crossroad," Moore said and recommended strongly that young people receive more guidance, guidance to bring about a change in attitude.
Of America Moore said: "This is the place to be — no other country has our freedoms, and if you want a future get an education."

Youth Briefs

20 CANVASSES
Twenty canvasses and 10 drawings, a retrospective of one of the most noted painters of our time, Hiram Williams, will be shown in the C. W. Woods Art Gallery on the University of Southern Mississippi campus Oct. 1-Oct. 23.

PERFORMING ARTS
"The Merchant of Venice" will play Oct. 11-15 in the University of Southern Mississippi's Performing Arts Center in Hattiesburg. Curtain is at 8 p.m. Tickets are $2 for students, faculty, staff and senior citizens and $3 for others. Call 266-4989 for tickets.

MALONE RECITAL
An obse recital by Dr. Patricia Malone of the University of Southern Mississippi faculty Tuesday, Oct. 11, at 8 p.m. in USM's Marsh Hall is free to the public.

It was also suggested that civic and patriotic organizations might be of help with guiding young people by sponsoring essay contests, offering scholarships and giving public recognition to achievers.
Benjamin Franklin once warned: "We have a republic — if we can keep it."

Moore said: "Our citizens should be informed, active and alert if we are to keep our heritage."

Others on the program included Mrs. Nunez (Joe) Pilet who gave the President's Message, and Mrs. L.R. Lisenbee who reported on national defense activities.

Mrs. E. George Cassis and Mrs. Ailliam Gennel assisted the hostess with a luncheon service.

Mrs. John Elkins announced the group would meet on Oct. 8 at the Indian Artifacts Museum off Hwy. 49 north of Gulfport.

The chapter will contribute to the support of an Indian School at that time.

PRIDE DRUM MAJORS—Fans attending the University of Southern Mississippi Golden Eagles football games this season will see a new Pride of Mississippi marching band with two drum majors and a new twirling corps. The Pride will be led this year by drum majors Gary Adam, left, of Bay St. Louis and Charles Thomas of Hattiesburg. Adam, a senior at USM, was the drum major at Bay Senior High and a percussionist in the Mississippi Lions All-State Band. He was the drum major in 1981. Thomas, a sophomore, is a former drum major of the Lions All-State Band and a graduate of Hattiesburg High School where he was also drum major.

Montgomery reports on hearing into VA health care allegations

It's not all bad out there. There are some dedicated people within the Veterans Administration health care delivery system. If we are to conclude anything from the hearing, it is that VA hospitals have problems similar to those of other hospitals, public or private, specifically, a shortage of funds and personnel in some areas. But we are attempting to correct that.

Representative G. V. (Sonny) Montgomery (D-Miss.) chairman of the House Committee on Veterans' Affairs and its Oversight and Investigations Subcommittee, made his comments following an oversight hearing called to examine charges made against the VA health care system in a report issued by a subcommittee of the Association of Orthopaedic Chairmen. The report, issued in July of this year, concludes that "there is within the VA system a substantial quantity of quality health care," but goes on to say that this "does not excuse an increasing deterioration of medical care which, if not reversed, could jeopardize the entire program."

Citing funding methods, or "a variety of restricted funds which cannot be used for purposes other than which they are allocated," lack of proper equipment, inefficient use of operating rooms, an orthopedic surgery backlog, a shortage of nurses, costly admission policies, and charging that the system encourages long, costly, unnecessary hospitalization, the report claims that "only a truly radical reorganization of the system would provide medical care properly to those individuals for whom the VA system was established."

However, Dr. Paul W. Schafer, executive director of the National Association of Veterans Administration Physicians, testified that while the present level of quality in the Veterans Medical Program can be improved, "I have never worked in an operating suite with nurses or technicians like those described in this report. It has been my experience that people respond to proper challenge and guidance and literally break their backs and hearts to please."

The report, a result of letters of inquiry sent to "about 60" orthopedic physicians prompted "between 25 and 30" replies. The participating physicians were identified by number only to avoid possible harassment.

Dr. James Hughes, author of the report and chairman of the Subcommittee on Veterans' Affairs of the Association of Orthopaedic Chairmen, said that the report "is a national shortage of orthopedic surgeons and the resultant recruiting problems we face. Nevertheless, we cannot permit this phenomenon to restrain us from attempting to achieve better services where indicated."

According to Dr. Earl Brown Jr., associate deputy chief medical director of the VA, the Department of Medicine and Surgery initiated a survey and found that the number of beds assigned and the occupancy rate of orthopedic services and the pre- and post-operative length of stay are all satisfactory.

"Our survey also has identified some potential problem situations and areas where we need to seek improvement of our services," Brown said. "To put some of these problems in context, however, we cannot dissociate them altogether from the existence of a national shortage of orthopedic surgeons and the resultant recruiting problems we face. Nevertheless, we cannot permit this phenomenon to restrain us from attempting to achieve better services where indicated."

The president of the Association of Orthopaedic Chairmen said that in studying the report's contents, which were neither reviewed nor approved by the organization's executive committee prior to its release, "there are issues common to many types of hospitals, including VA hospitals, involving difficulties with budgets, supplies and administration, all of which ultimately impact on patient care. It was obvious from the report, however anecdotal, that frustrations were seriously felt by the providers of orthopaedic services due in part to a current breakdown of communication in some selected situations," testified Dr. C. McCollister Everts.

Several members of the Oversight and Investigations Subcommittee told the physicians that they should first seek solutions on the local level rather than "seeking press first."

Dr. Hughes said he did not know who sent the report to a Jackson, Miss., newspaper before the subcommittee had a chance to respond to its allegations.

Dr. Hughes says the group plans to submit, given time, recommendations to the Subcommittee on what it feels should be accomplished within the VA health care system.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 514

LEGAL BRIEFS

Liberty And Justice For All Is Goal Of Trial Lawyers

By Howard A. Specter
President
Association of Trial Lawyers of America

The rights of Americans are being watched over and preserved by many lawyers who care about their clients, society, their profession and our system of justice. These lawyers from every town and city in this nation are dedicated to preserving and extending the rights of each of us.

There are many unsung heroes among this nation's lawyers. Although a small number of well-known lawyers seems to appear in the news media the most often when quoted about sensational or precedent setting cases, they are not necessarily the true examples of the American trial lawyer.

It is the relatively unknown trial lawyers from small towns and big cities across this great nation who are single-mindedly dedicating their efforts to protecting the interests of the injured and the accused who are the best and most noble of the legal profession.

They are the lawyers who speak from no lecture platform, receive little public praise, seek no special office or favor and enjoy little limelight. They are the hard working lawyers whose sensitivity and creativity spark the flames which make the great law of this country grow and glow.

They are the lawyers who are dedicated to the belief that the least of us shall have the same legal rights as the wealthiest and the most powerful by providing competent legal counsel and by preserving the contingent fee system—the keys to the courthouse.

They are the lawyers who have succeeded in bringing greater safety to the marketplace by making it unprofitable to produce dangerous and defective products. They are the lawyers who are breaking down the old workers' compensation exclusivity rule so that employers may be held liable to their injured workers for full compensation. They are the lawyers who are fighting for the preservation of the environment and full compensation to injured victims and property caused by pollution and toxic substances.

The rights of the handicapped, of the aged and infirm and of all victims of injustice are being upheld and expanded by these lawyers who care. They are the men and women of all races and backgrounds who are dedicated to preserving and fulfilling our nation's promise of "liberty and justice for all."

PRC COORDINATOR—Pearl River College has a new industrial training coordinator. Mark Bounds, 29, replaced Randy Read, PRC's coordinator since the department's beginning three years ago. Read transferred to the Pearl River Lamar County Vo-Tech Center in his hometown of Purvis as that center's counselor. Bounds, a 1972 graduate of Harrison Central High School and the University of Southern Mississippi, will head PRC's Industry Services Division. His responsibilities are to work with new and existing industry to determine their needs and then coordinate instructors, training equipment and materials.

WIN SWEEPSTAKES

25 expense-paid round trips for 2 via  REPUBLIC AIRLINES to the Queen Mary Hotel for 4 carefree days and 3 nights in Long Beach, Cal. Plus $1000 shopping spree for 1 couple at their local K mart store.

OFFICIAL RULES: K MART/NORDIC WARE SWEEPSTAKES

1. You are entered to win one of 25 vacations for two when you complete and use the $5.00 rebate coupon by December 31, 1983. The coupon must be accompanied by the appropriate quarters in sweepstakes entry/rebate coupon to "Kmart/Nordic Ware Sweepstakes, P.O. Box 16171, St. Louis, MO 63116." Entries must be received by December 31, 1983 to be eligible. Each sweepstakes entrant assumes responsibility of delivery by post office. No responsibility is assumed for late, misdirected or lost mail.
2. Alternate means of entry NO PURCHASE NECESSARY. NO MECHANICALLY REPRODUCED ENTRIES. On a 3"x5" paper, hand print your name, address and zip code and the words "Kmart/Nordic Ware Sweepstakes." Mail sweepstakes entry to "Kmart/Nordic Ware Sweepstakes, P.O. Box 3390, Syosset, NY 11775." On the outside of your envelope write the words "Sweepstakes Only." Enter as often as you like but each entry must be mailed separately. Entries must be received by December 31, 1983 to be eligible. Each sweepstakes entrant assumes responsibility of delivery by post office. No responsibility is assumed for late, misdirected or lost mail.
3. Twenty-five grand prize winners. Prize consists of round trip tickets for two via Republic Airlines for the city of the Queen Mary Hotel in Long Beach, California for 4 days and 3 nights. Prizes will be selected in a random drawing from all entries received. One winner will be selected in a random drawing conducted on or about January 15, 1984 by McGladrey, Hendrickson, an independent judging organization whose decisions are final.
4. Winners will be notified by mail. No prize substitutions. All prizes will be awarded. One prize per family. Grand prize winners will be required to sign and affidavit of eligibility and release and will be solely responsible for any applicable taxes on the prizes. The all expense paid vacation and hotel reservations for grand prize winners are subject to availability on dates requested by winners. If a minor wins a prize, it will be awarded in the name of the parent or legal guardian. Minors must be accompanied by an adult on the trip. All entries remain the property of Nordic Ware. None will be returned.
5. Sweepstakes open to residents of the USA. Employees and their families of Nordal Aluminum Products, Inc., its subsidiaries, Kmart, its divisions and subsidiaries, their advertising agencies, and McGladrey, Hendrickson are not eligible. Void where prohibited. All federal, state and local laws and regulations apply. Odds of winning depend upon the total number of entries received. For the names of the grand prize winners send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Kmart/Nordic Ware Sweepstakes Winners, P.O. Box 3359, Syosset, NY 11775.
